ABOUT
LONG WHARF THEATRE

Long Wharf Theatre, founded in 1965, is recognized as a leader in American theatre, producing fresh and imaginative revivals of classics and modern plays, rediscoveries of neglected works, and a variety of world and American premieres.

More than 30 Long Wharf productions have transferred virtually intact to Broadway or off-Broadway, including the 2005 production of BFE by Julia Cho, and the Pulitzer Prize-winning plays Wit by Margaret Edson, The Shadow Box by Michael Cristofer, and The Gin Game by D.L. Coburn.

Long Wharf has received New York Drama Critics Awards, Obie Awards, the Margo Jefferson Award for Production of New Works, a Special Citation from the Outer Critics Circle, and the Tony Award for Outstanding Regional Theatre.

Long Wharf Theatre encourages a diverse body of applicants, female and male, of all ethnic heritages, and of all religious backgrounds.
WHAT IS THE NEXT STAGE PROGRAM?

Long Wharf Theatre has a long history of launching the careers of young artists through its Next Stage Program, the theatre’s early career development program. The Next Stage Program is dedicated to engaging and employing a new generation of diverse theatre artists, administrators and leaders.
